Bidder to provide the Reinforcement drawings typically include the following basic essentials: a. Reinforcement Details: Drawings showing the arrangement, size, and type of reinforcement bars in various structural elements (e.g., beams, columns, slabs) and detailed schedules outlining the size, shape. However, civil contractor shall prepare Bar Bending schedule only for quantity calculation of Bars. b. Bar Markings: Unique identifiers for each type of reinforcement bar, including size, shape, and location. c. Reinforcement Plan Layout: Drawings showing the layout of reinforcement bars in plan and section views. d. Sectional Views: Detailed sectional views of structural elements, showing reinforcement bar arrangements. e. Notes and Specifications: Additional information, such as material specifications, cover requirements, and construction notes. f. Reinforcement drawings shall ensure compliance with design specifications, building codes, and regulatory requirements. g. Drawings should be clear, concise, and easy to understand. h. Drawings should be accurate and complete, including all necessary information. i. Drawings should follow standardized notation, symbols, and formatting. j. Any other applicable standards may be adopted.	Bidder will prepare RCC design drawing indicating typical reinforcement details along with schedule of reinforcement. In addition to same, standard RC detail drawing will be prepared which can be referred as reference drawing for specific design drawing wherever applicable. Bar bending schedule shall be prepared by client appointed civil contractor and same shall be reviewed by "bidder site team/client appointed site team".	Tender conditions shall prevail.
45	VI - List of requirements and Scope of work	56	C (8)	Detailed Civil Engineering	Prepare structural steel drawings for construction of structures	We presume that the buildings/facilities proposed to be developed using steel structures will be of conventional steel construction and that no Pre-Engineered Building (PEB) structures are envisaged for the project. Kindly confirm.	Any structural steel works involved in the project, Drawings needs to be provided by the PMC for execution of works. I.r.o of PEB structures, PMC can envisage and suggest as per the requirement during design phase and can plan accordingly.
46	VI - List of requirements and Scope of work	56	C (15)	Detailed Civil Engineering	To conduct & provide proof checking certificate for structural design issued by qualified professional of project consultant/ agency engaged by the consultant	This clause is running contrary to other provisions wherein the proof checking, if required, shall be arranged for by BNPM. It is assumed that BNPM will arrange for the same with the project consultant providing details for the same.	Tender conditions shall prevail. This clause refers to internal proofchecking by PMC. Other clause refers to proof checking by Third Party wherein BNPM will engage the Third Party.
47	VI - List of requirements and Scope of work	56	C (17)	Detailed Civil Engineering	To submit buildings stability certificate after completion of project	We understand that the certification is limited to the one provided inhouse by the appointed Consultant.	To be provided by PMC after completion of project.
48	VI - List of requirements and Scope of work	57	V (6)	Contract Engineering & Procurement Services	Provide technical assistance in purchase negotiations and selection of Vendor. Payment for travel, lodging and boarding during such visits, if any, will be at actuals on submission of bills to locations other than Mysuru subject to following conditions, a. Travel by economy class by Air (or) II-Tier AC by Train. b. Lodging at standard rooms of hotels rated not more than 4-star	For assistance in commercial negotiations if required man-day charges shall be paid in the addition to thre reimbursement of travel expenses (including visit to Mysuru site),	Tender conditions shall prevail.
49	VI - List of requirements and Scope of work	57	V (8 & 9)	Contract Engineering & Procurement Services	8) Consultant shall perform inspection of machines/equipment at the manufacturer's works/premises with respect to quality of materials, workmanship and conformity to specification/drawings, wherever necessary. Charges for domestic inspection of machines/equipment at manufacturer's works/premises shall be paid at actuals in mandays. Number of man-days shall be calculated on actual inspection days at manufacturer's premises. Other than above man-days no other charges are payable. For inspection outside India, cost for the same will be reimbursed at actuals after mutual discussion. 9) Consultant shall witness necessary tests at manufacturer's/BNPM works to verify the performance characteristics as and when required.	We would request reimbursement of travel, lodging and boarding expenses in addition to the man-day charges for Inspection visits, estimation of travel charges at this stage will be difficult	Reimbursement of travel, lodging and boarding expenses will be as per Clause V (11) of Section V.
50	VI - List of requirements and Scope of work	58	VI (12)	Project Management Services	Plan out Facilities at site required for start of construction, setting up temporary site office for BNPM and PMC.	It is understood that the Consultant shall arrange for a planned site office. However, a fully furnished and functional site office for the Consultant's personnel deputed at site for supervision shall be provided by the Client. Kindly confirm the same.	Tender conditions shall prevail.
51	VI - List of requirements and Scope of work	60	X	Time Schedule	Final DPR shall be submitted within 3 months from the date of LOI. The review and revalidation of DPR shall be completed within one month from the date of receipt of intimation from BNPM. The project is scheduled to be completed in 30 months from the date of LOI.	This is a highly ambitious target and practically impossible given that soil, survey studies have to be carried out and need to be outsourced. Further, designing activities will definitely cross the 3 month mark.Six months will be a realistic target.	Tender conditions shall prevail.
